NIP AND TUCK.

A CLOSE RACE BETWEEN THREE WESTERN CITIES

For the Democratic National Convention—The Californians Still Confident.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

WASHINGTON, February 23.—The National Democratic Committee met at Willard's Hotel, in this city, at noon today for the purpose of selecting the date and place for holding the next Democratic Convention to nominate candidates for President and Vice-President. Ex-Senator Barnum, of Connecticut, presided over the meeting, and F. O. Prince, of Massachusetts, acted as secretary. The vacancy caused by the death of Hubert C. Thompson, of New York, was promptly filled by the election of William Steiway.

The organization being completed, the Chairman stated that the first business in order was the selection of a date for holding the National Democratic Convention.

Senator Gorman offered a resolution fixing July 24 as the date.

This was vigorously opposed by Congressman Scott, of Pennsylvania, who was present as proxy for William A. Wallace. He read a long speech depicting the advantages which he believed would accrue to the Democratic party from a Convention held on May 22.

The campaign should be made vigorous and aggressive by the selection of an early date and a place where the Democratic party could make a people of the principles which might be advanced by the Democratic party.

Another proposition was made to fix June 5th as the date, but this, as well as the one suggested by Scott, was opposed by Senator Gorman, who declared that in view of the fact that there were

SOME DIFFERENCES OF OPINION in the Democratic party upon the tariff question, it would be impolitic to hold the convention at that time. He suggested that the Democratic party should have an opportunity to agree upon a tariff measure which would bring together the various sections and united support of the Democratic party.

Senator Gorman's motion was agreed upon by the Democratic party, and the convention was adjourned until the next day.

THE EARLY DATE DEFEATED.

The committee finally, by a vote of 25 to 19, agreed that the Convention should be held on July 24 next.

A short recess was then taken.

ON RESEMBLING THE COMMITTEE gave a hearing to the representatives of the various cities contending for the honor of securing the convention, the first address being given by W. M. Fuller, of Chicago.

Fuller, in his address, stated that the Democratic party had been excluded from power for many years, and that it was now the duty of the party to secure a return to power.

He then read a list of the names of the cities which were contending for the honor of securing the convention, and stated that the Democratic party should select the city which it believed would give it the best opportunity of securing a return to power.

been uttered by Senator Vest. If one grain of sand could be put into the balance in favor of the Democratic party, it would be enough to show that by holding the Convention in Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati or New York, that grain of sand would be enough to tip the scale in favor of the Democratic party. The Democratic party in California, however, while they held forth the hand of fellowship to their fellow-Democrats of the East and South, and while they offered to harbor the Convention at their headquarters, they would not wish to have a Democratic Convention held in California.

Mr. Scott and the Chicago men will pledge themselves to vote for St. Louis as the place of meeting, provided the latter will add them in changing the date of meeting. While the truth of the matter is ascertained at this late hour, it comes from a usually reliable source and is given for what it is worth.

A Mugwumpian Motion.

New York, February 23.—The Times says editorially this morning that the enemies of the President in the Democratic National Committee succeed in getting the Convention to meet in St. Louis or in New York. They will have an opportunity for a few weeks more to impose upon the ignorant and misled the "mugwumpian" motion by which the Convention is to be held in St. Louis.

BEYOND HOPE.

Washington's Millionaire Philanthropist Rapidly Failing.

WASHINGTON, February 23.—W. W. Corcoran has taken no nourishment for the past thirty-six hours. He has been in a heavy stupor for the greater portion of that time, with intervals of natural sleep. This morning, for the first time during that period, he was given two spoonfuls of champagne and one of milk. He refused to take any more. He lies with his eyes closed, and breathing heavily. His attendants this morning noticed a change in his face, which indicated that the final stages of the gradual waning of his powers had been reached. There is nothing that can be done for him. He is beyond the aid of the physicians.

It is simply now a question of endurance. His constitution is battling against the growing weakness. It is his great vitality which is now keeping him alive. His attendants are now keeping him alive. He is waiting the end. It is supposed he will last thirty-one, perhaps forty-eight, hours longer. The unknown quantity of his vital energy is the only doubtful factor at present in his case.

Ferguson, Under Foreign Secretary, said that no engagement had been entered into with the British Government. He was not known to Parliament.

Gladstone said he heard with extreme satisfaction that the Government had conducted a policy of harmony with France. He was content with the declaration just obtained. He earnestly hoped that a good night, and the longest sleep that he has experienced since the operation was performed. He felt much refreshed this morning.

Hundreds of people gathered in the town. The camp fire in the ball at the Pavilion was very bright.
